

GREAT INCREASE IS PROPOSED IN FRANCHISE TAX

Montgomery, Ala., Aug. 13.—The senate committee on finance and taxation has announced a decision to make a ten-fold increase in the tax on franchises. This means the greatest increase in taxes ever imposed on corporations in Alabama.

An estimate introduced at the meeting shows that the proposed amendment will call for the payment on $75,000 a year increased taxes by the Louisville and Nashville Railroad.

A flat franchise tax of one dollar a thousand is proposed. At present the tax is one dollar a thousand on the first fifty thousand, fifty cents on the second, and up to nine hundred and fifty thousand and one-tenth of one per cent on values above one million.

RUNS WIFE'S PEOPLE OFF

J. F. Pennington Raikes "Rough House" at Home of Father-in-Law.—Windows Broken and Dishes Smashed.

After he had broken out windows, destroyed a large portion of the kitchen crockery, and run the family of his father-in-law away from home, H. Y. Smith, who lives six miles south of Dothan, was arrested late yesterday afternoon by Sheriff May and deputies and brought to town for incarceration in the county jail.

J. F. Pennington, the father-in-law, who along with other members of his family, sought refuge elsewhere when Smith started on his escapade, arrived in town early this morning, and called at the Sheriff's office. He said that Smith knocked him down twice, and that he found seven empty whiskey bottles at his house. He said that he thought Smith ordered the whiskey.

Smith, according to Pennington, had been working at Noma, Fla., while his wife had been staying at the home of her father in the country.

Injured in Jail.

On the way to town, Smith cursed and abused the officers, according to Deputy Sheriff Ross Hornsby, and once inside the jail, started a tirade against the inmates. It is reported that Smith leaned against one of the cells, in which the prisoners were detained, and that they caught him by the arm, and pulled it between the bars, badly lacerating that member. The officers say Smith was cursing the occupants of the cell. They had no way to get to him had he not leaned against the cell, so they could catch him by the arm.

OFFICERS MISTAKE EACH OTHER FOR COW THIEVES

There was an interesting little comedy staged just outside the city last night at Hammond's butcher pen, where thieves had taken a cow, ostensibly for the purpose of butchering aforesaid cow and offering her for sale in portions.

The cow was stolen from a negro preacher in Frogtown, who reported his loss to the Sheriff's office, the Police Department and goodness knows who else. It seems that he told most everybody about it.

Deputies Ross Hornsby and Talmadge May from the Sheriff's office, went to the scene where it was anticipated the bloody work would be done, and found a desirable place where they could watch developments.

In his anxiety the negro preacher also reported his loss to the police and Officers Daugherty and Hart, as well as some excited negroes, also appeared on the scene.

The deputies did not know the police were coming and the police did not know the deputies were on the case. Thereby hangs a tale.

(Yes, there was an automobile, for it takes a little gas to make a story like this complete.)

Anyway, the police approached stealthily, it would seem. Deputies Hornsby and May, from their place of hiding, saw the approaching hosts, and knew that they would soon have the thieves.

Hornsby flashed his flash light in the face of the new comers, and Talmadge held a gun. It is a safe bet that both sides were startled. Then the two crowds recognized each other—but nowhere was the cow thief.

It is likely though that the officers said something under their breath, that wouldn't look well in print. They joined forces and continued the search, but the cow stealer could not be found.

However, the old cow is back home giving milk as usual, and the heart of the negro preacher is glad.

PEDDLES PUPPIES

Talladega, Ala., Aug. 13.—Peddlers abound in Talladega. There are chicken peddlers, vegetable peddlers, picture peddlers, book peddlers, toilet article peddlers, pork peddlers, beef peddlers, cotton peddlers, and peddlers of every kind and description. But it remained for Dave Lackey, a well known farmer of this county to break the record for peddlers yesterday. Mr. Lackey came to town with a large litter of bird dog puppies which he peddled from house to house at ten dollars each.

W. D. Carroll of Taylor was in town this morning.

862 MARINES OFF TO HAYTI

Philadelphia, Aug. 13.—Carrying enough supplies for a three months' campaign, the U. S. Cruiser Tennessee left this port with 862 marines aboard, to relieve the men at Hayti under Rear Admiral Caperton. The vessel is under the command of Captain W. R. Decker and on board are Col. L. W. T. Waller of the Marine Corps and his staff, who will assume charge of the U. S. Marines on the island.

PRINTERS LOSE GAME

The Printers were defeated by the Clerks at Baker Field yesterday afternoon, the final count being 6 to 3. Bad base running and costly fielding errors, caused the Printers to lose the game. Gay, who also pitched a good game for the Clerks, was given good support. Frank Paige, who twirled for the Printers, "had it all," and ought to have won his game if his team mates had given him the right kind of support. Batteries: Clerks, Herbert Gay and Frank Culver; Printers, Frank Paige, Buxton and Dunham Domingus.

WANTS ASHFORD JOB.

Eleven persons want to be postmaster at Ashford, this being the number who appeared at the federal building today to take the examination to qualify for the place. S. Eckenby was in charge of the examination. It is a sure shot that ten people are going to be disappointed.

Grady Quattlebaum, a young farmer, who lives several miles from town on the Grimes road, was found by the police in a street near Frogtown last night. He was badly bruised about the face and head. MASONS TO HAVE A BIG MEETING HERE

There will be a special meeting of Dothan Council Royal Select Masters on Thursday, August 26, beginning at 1 p. m. Grand Secretary George A. Beauchamp and Mr. Guy T. Smith, of Montgomery will be present at this meeting, and confer the degrees on a number of candidates. All qualified brethren are urged to be present at this meeting, and candidates desiring to take the degrees should forward their petitions to S. Eckenby, secretary.

Mr. Beauchamp not only ranks high in Alabama as a Mason, but is prominent in all the different degrees, but is regarded as one of the best workers in the United States, and this meeting of the Dothan Council promises to be a record breaker.

CANCELLATION OF CONTRACTS FOR WHEAT PUZZLING TRADE

Chicago, Aug. 13.—Cancellation yesterday by representatives of the Allies of contracts aggregating nearly 2,000,000 bushels of wheat, bought for September shipment to Europe, was puzzling to the grain trade today.

James A. Patton, discussing the cancellations, said:

"If peace were in sight, Europe would still need wheat and she would have the credit to get it. The cancellation of orders therefore, would seem to indicate one of two things. Either Europe has found a source of new supply, which means Russia; or Europe finds that she cannot pay."

It was said that two of the largest firms which cancelled contracts were the Armour Grain Company and the J. C. Rosenbaum Grain Company. George C. Marey, of the Armour Company said:

"I am unable to understand what has happened abroad. It must be something important or they would not have cancelled purchases that show such profits and give them away. Possibly it is that the Dardanelles are to be opened. But we have no information. England wants to hold her gold and by buying wheat in Canada and Australia she can use her credits and keep her gold with which to buy munitions. If Europe does not buy our wheat freely, it will mean much to us, and make a great deal of difference in prices."

CARD OF THANKS

Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Vickery, of East Troy street, wish to thank their friends for their kind services and sympathy during the illness and death of Mrs. Lula Caney, a sister of Mrs. Vickery, at their home a few days ago.

FUNERAL TODAY.

J. H. Lane, a well known citizen of Malvern, who died yesterday afternoon, will be buried this afternoon at Beulah cemetery, three miles from the city.

London, Aug. 13.—Official announcement was made today of an airship raid last night on the east coast of England. Four persons were killed. One Zeppelin, the announcement says, probably was damaged, but escaped.

Another report says that six persons were killed, twenty-three injured and fourteen houses were damaged seriously by bombs.

NEW UPRISINGS OCCUR IN REPUBLIC OF HAYTI

Washington, Aug. 13.—New uprisings by the Bobo and Zanor factions have broken out at Cape Haytien and have forced Rear Admiral Caperton to establish military rule in the city.

This statement was issued at the navy department.

"Rear Admiral Caperton reports that on account of disturbed conditions in and around Cape Haytien, due to the Bobo and Zanor factions, it has become necessary to take military control of the town and conduct affairs in the same manner as at Port-au-Prince. Civil officials are employed where it is possible and suitable men can be obtained."

"Commander Otis, commanding officer of the Nashville, has been placed in charge and has a battalion of bluejackets from the Connecticut ashore to assist in maintaining order."

DAMAGE BUILDING

Unidentified parties have been committing acts of depredation on the new municipal building, a window having been knocked out, and the structure otherwise damaged. The police are keeping a sharp lookout for the culprits.

SUMMARY OF WAR STATUS

Latest dispatches from the several war offices give rise to the belief in the capitals of the allies that the safe withdrawal of the main part of the Russian forces from the Warsaw salient is agreed through the stout resistance offered by the wings of Grand Duke Nicholas's army.

The Italian war office reports the complete repulse by Alpine troops of simultaneous attacks by the Austrians through two mountain passes 10,000 feet or more high in the Parva valley zone. No movements of importance elsewhere are mentioned.

The most recent Austrian statement reports the repulse of Italian attacks on the Dobro planina and near Zagora.

The sinking of the British steamer Jacana, a 2,000-ton vessel, two other British craft, the steamers Opprey and Bismarck, and the Norwegian steamer Aurn, presumably through attacks by German submarines, is announced. These vessels, including one woman, were destroyed.

And the nearest of these is gratitude.

The presidential campaign is the cause of the country being divided between the two sides.

The Place to Keep Money

Montgomery Times.
The fellow down in Henry county who had six thousand dollars stolen from his residence deserves very little sympathy. There are plenty of good strong banks in this country to hold all the money that the population has to deposit and they handle it for you free of charge. But there are a number of old fogies who have no confidence in banks and they think that they can take better care of it than the strong vaults of banking institutions and never realize this mistake until it is too late. This fellow was resting securely in the belief that the six thousand that he had stored down in the bottom of a $250 trunk was safe. He did not have confidence in the honesty and integrity of his bankers, and hence the money was stolen, but, fortunately for him it was recovered.

It always makes a feeling of pity creep over us when a fellow is heard belittling banks. It is the rarest thing imaginable for a man to lose money by depositing it in a good bank. The banking laws of Alabama and the national government make banks doubly secure. Occasionally some dishonest employee gets away with a few thousand, but immediately the deficit is made good out of the surplus fund, and the bank is as strong and able to do business as it was before.

Banks are not only great institutions for keeping your money, but they come in mighty convenient when a fellow gets hard up for a little cash. Of course they loan out money that is deposited with them, for that is the only way that they have of making anything for the trouble they have of handling your deposits. But enough money is always on hand to give you every dollar of your money when you want it, and that is as far as the depositor is concerned.

If you will go bank and think about the matter, your banker has always been mighty nice to you. If your credit is good, he has let you have money when you wanted it, and even when your credit is not of the best you have been turned down in such a nice way that your feelings were not hurt. They have to do this sometimes, but it is rare, for a fellow knows when his credit is good, and if he is not certain of his position, he will be very careful how he asks a loan. Banks could not make much money if it was not for the fellow who wants to borrow. They can take care of your deposits and keep the burglars from getting it, but real banking consists in the good judgment to loan out the money entrusted to their keeping so as to have it perfectly safe, and keep enough in the vaults to satisfy all demands that are made.

The fool who thinks that banks are robbery institutions usually wakes up to a realization of his mistake after it is too late.

Menominee, Mich., Aug. 13.—Four thousand dollars, the savings of a life-time at wages of $1.50 a day, were taken from the trunk of Peter St. Louis, 89 years old, a bachelor.

Rains run the crops and so does the drought, but the farmers down here have decided to go right on making good crops with both, as heretofore.

China's "Salvation Fund."

Commercial Appeal.
The world has only a sneer, or at best a tolerant pity, for the helplessness of the Oriental giant we call China. Her lack of concentrated national purpose and training and her dearth of development of resources and possibilities make her the easy prey of her ambitious neighbor across the narrow Sea of Japan, and the object of world-wide criticism of uncomplimentary nature. But under all of her miseries and supine yielding to stronger wills there is beating a national pulse that close students of Oriental questions have only recently discovered.

China is passive now, turning her "other cheek" for the second smiting, but she is preparing for a day of reparation when her attitude will be far different. Quietly she has begun to gather what she calls a "salvation fund," a store of money that is to pave the way to a higher national life by providing the things that spell progress and pride of country. The contributors to this fund are small—here a little and there a little more—but they are piling up in a sum that eventually will astonish the world.

The arch enemy of China is the shrewd, wide-awake Japanese, who, by every law of race and "propinquity" and of mutual interests against Caucasian influences, should be her staunchest friend. She cannot meet Japan on the battlefield and live, and she cannot shut her trade doors in the other's face. She knows she is helpless, and so she accepts the inevitable and waits for the day of final reckoning.

When that day comes she must have her own railroads and arsenals and developed mines, and smelting mills. Everything that goes to the equipment of a vast army must be hers, lying, as it were, in the hollow of her hand. The military training she will get by degrees; but the money for the material things must be ready and waiting. And so a few months ago, according to correspondents who claim to know, she began to collect her "salvation fund." Everybody contributes, quietly and without any fuss. The people know that "salvation" may not come for years, perhaps not in their generation, but they have faith that some day it will come like a new dawn over the hilltops, and that China must be prepared.

There is something pathetic in the quiet patience with which they have begun their long wait. No occidental people could set themselves so stoically to work out a plan that seems so visionary; only the Oriental can wait like that.

But under the pathos of it all there is beating that new national pulse that is crystallizing into a heroism that will bear its own fruit. Each contributor to that "salvation fund" becomes a partaker of a spirit of patriotism that cannot fail some day to set up a standard that will not be furled except in a new birth of a regenerated nation.

The old-fashioned man who used to talk about taking "the wind out of your sails" now has a son who has a hard time keeping gasoline in the automobile tank.

An Oxford professor has discovered that Noah and not Adam and Eve caused the fall of man. He might make a search now for the noted swatter of one B. Paterson.

Dignity of Labor

Birmingham Age Herald.
Over in LaFayette, Ind., lives a blacksmith who has just announced his intention of retiring to a farm he owns near that city after having shod 500,000 horses and mules, during the many years he has worked as a blacksmith. Matthew McNulty, the blacksmith, is 60 years old and from his youth has toiled early and late fitting shoes on horses and mules. During the days of the Wabash and Erie canal he had a contract for shoring all the horses that provided power for all the boats on the canal.

McNulty is as frugal as he has been industrious and he has accumulated a fortune of $40,000. Here at least is a man of modest fortune at whom no reformer can rail. No "predatory wealth" accusation is applicable to this man of toil, who by industry and economy has built up a fortune that will stand between him and hardship in his declining years.

The last 20 or 25 years has witnessed a remarkable increase in the number of professional men, until many of the professions are so overcrowded that only men of distinguished ability can hope to do more than earn a mere living.

Perhaps, too, there are men who are failing as lawyers, doctors or dentists because of lack of talent for the work they have chosen, men who as blacksmiths or mechanics would attain success similar to that of Matthew McNulty.

When will men realize that all labor is honorable and that it is better to be a successful blacksmith than a failure in a profession, even though the latter work does involve soiling their hands?

NOTICE.

Notice is hereby given that application will be made to the present legislature of Alabama after it reconvenes in July, 1915, for the introduction and enactment into law of a bill, entitled, An Act, regulating fines and forfeitures of Houston county, prescribing what claims shall be filed against the fine and forfeiture fund of said county, and prescribing the order of priority in which the same shall be paid.

Said bill provides that there shall be paid out of the fine and forfeiture fund of Houston county by the Treasurer of said County, and which have been duly registered as provided by law and in the order of registration except as herein otherwise provided, the claims of state witnesses, and also the fees of the sheriff and clerk of said county arising from cases in which the defendant is not convicted, and the costs are not imposed on the prosecutor, or in which the defendants have been proved insolvent by the return of execution, "no property found," or in cases in which the State enters a nolle prosequi, or where the indictment has been withdrawn and filed, or the prosecution abated by the death of the defendant; and authorizing the filing and registration by the County Treasurer of Houston county, the claims for services in such cases that have been rendered and that may be hereafter rendered by the clerk and sheriff of said county; provided that the claims of the State witnesses shall be entitled to be paid first out of any money in said fund, before the claims of the sheriff and clerk of said county, as herein defined, may be paid, but only when such witness claims, when presented for payment, are still in the hands of the witnesses respectively, to whom they were issued; and provided further, that any claims of the state witnesses that have passed out of the possession of the witnesses to whom they were issued, shall not have any priority of payment out of said fund, but shall be paid as other claims, only in the order of registration, and providing for the repeal of all laws and parts of laws in conflict with said act, in so far as such laws conflict therewith.

This June 24, 1915.

THE ENCHANTRESS.

Dearest, I used to think of Spring
As that rare moment of the year
When—earth astir and air a-wing
The melting rivers rise and cheer;
Moment immortalized by May, Perfection much too sweet to stay.

But now I know that any hour
Of any month in any land
With springs most precious gifts may flower,
And wind and cold and drouth withstand—Aye, an old squandered springs renew—
If time and place are shared with you.

Spend the Day Party—

Mr. and Mrs. Bob Brown were at home to a few friends yesterday in the form of a "spend the day with us." Despite the threatening clouds that hung low and withheld the intense rays of the sun yet the rain did not come. Rook was played throughout the day. Just at 12 noon the guests were ushered into the dining room where the scene changed and where the scene also varied. Here a well appointed table with centerpiece of smilax in cut glass vase was almost hid from view by the many good things to eat.

After the entire day had passed with each hour enjoyed fully all departed wishing many more days thus spent with such elegant

Mrs. Brown.

The fortunate guests were Mr.

Mrs. Tutwiler Hostess at

Biformal Affair—

A very enjoyable affair was the "Brenan Party" at which Mrs. C. S. Tutwiler was hostess
Friday afternoon at five o'clock.
Invitations were extended to all Dothan Brenan students, past, present and future, known to the hostess, to spend an afternoon in pleasant exchange of college experiences, both in retrospection and anticipation.

The inspiration of the occasion was the recent summer visit to Brenan College by Mrs. Tutwiler and her daughter, Margaret, where they both studied special courses in music.

Twelve former students responded to the invitation and it developed that there are at least six more residing in Dothan.

A most delightful hour was spent in discussing the scenes and events of college days. School mates and teachers were affectionately recalled in many reminiscences and the high tide of enthusiasm was reached when the name of Aga Takeda was mentioned, the dear little Japanese Brenan girl who is the favorite of all.

The hostess declared that with so much Brenan talent present a program was next in order. The following young ladies responded most graciously in an entertainment which would have done credit to a much larger audience than was present:

Piano Solo, "To Spring," Greig, Miss Verna Hatton.

French Suite, Bach, Miss Neta
Stuckey.

Waltz, Chopin, Miss Evelyn Harris.

Violin Solo, Air Varié, de Ber-liot, Miss Margaret Tutwiler, ac-

Piano Solo, "Rigoletto," Verdi
Listz, Miss Iona Peterman.

The last number was so beautifully rendered as to call forth an insistent encore. Miss Peter-man then favored the guests with "Iris," a favorite composition of Mr. Pfeifferkorn.

After the program the guests were invited into the dining room where sandwiches and fruit punch were served. Lights were turned on and the twilight hours were fading before the college chums had finished their stories or were willing to part.

A happy suggestion was made to form a Brenan club. This was done at once and Miss Iona Peterman was elected president and Mrs. Tutwiler, secretary; the next meeting to be held during the Christmas holidays at the home of Miss Peterman.

Mrs. Tutwiler's guests and the names enrolled for the club were:

EQUALS WORLD'S BATTING RECORD IN ONE GAME

GEORGE CUTSHAW

Six consecutive hits in one game is the world's record. It has only been done twice, the first time by Clarence Beaumont of Pittsburgh, and the second time by George Cutshaw, the Brooklyn second baseman, in a game with Chicago on August 9. Cutshaw batted out the six hits in many times at bat. Beaumont smashed out six hits in 1899.
